

Press Release

For 20 years, the gallery has championed artists who question the boundaries between abstraction and figuration. Renowned or emerging, they all have something in common: obsessive in their writing, each has their own style that they develop in work after work. Their creative work is a journey, a search, a demand for transcendence.

Beyond their ideas and concepts, which they tirelessly explore, their research is embodied in the material, a source of emotion.

For this exhibition, each of the gallery's artists will present a piece that they feel is emblematic of their commitment.
